

LITTLE MOTHERS SAVE MANY LIVES

Greatest Factor in Preventing Infant Mortality Has Been the Care Given Them by Their Older Sisters.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Teaching the "little mothers" of the slum-babies infant hygiene was described as one of the greatest factors in preventing infant mortality by speakers at the opening session here Friday of the fourth annual convention of the American Association for Study and Prevention of Infant Mortality.

"The little mother" problem was brought to the attention of the association in a discussion following the statement by Dr. J. A. M. Knox of Baltimore that girls in the elementary schools should be given lessons in infant hygiene. Several speakers pointed out that many girls of poor families were unable to attend school because of their baby sisters and that for that reason the instruction should be extended beyond the school room.

Lack of adequate knowledge on the part of many practitioners regarding the latest developments in the care of babies during the first few months of life was deplored by Dr. L. A. Abt of Chicago.

Miss Frances Etchberger of Baltimore, discussing "Nursing and Social Work" declared that the babies of the poor and the pauper received the greatest care, the former because of the ability to pay for the best medical attention and the latter because of the great growth of public health nursing. She said an effort to reach the public in between, she declared, should be made by the association.

The difficulty of reaching rural mothers and teaching them to care for their infants was described by Miss Mammie Clement of Washington. She said visiting nurses had much trouble in convincing such mothers a vital necessity for cleanliness and proper feeding and that the babies were "just fetched up" with little or no attention to their health.

Friday night a general session at the National museum was addressed by Dr. L. Emmett Holt of New York, president of the association. He declared that the infant mortality problem could be successfully solved only by community interest and organization.

MORE EGGS BUT PRICE IS HIGHER

Fourteen Years Ago Highest Price Was Thirty-six Cents, While Last Year It Hit Sixty Cent Mark.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Production of eggs in the United States has increased steadily during the past 14 years. The price of eggs also has moved steadily upwards. Department of agriculture officials declare that cold storage is responsible for the high price.

Figures issued Friday by the census bureau show that in 1899 American hens laid 1,294,662,000 dozen eggs, which was seventeen dozen for every man, woman and child in the country. Ten years later in 1909, they produced 17.3 dozens per capita, while this year it is estimated they will produce 17.7 dozens per capita. As to prices the statistics show that in 1899 "average best fresh" eggs sold at wholesale in New York, highest price at 36 cents; in 1904 at 47 cents; in 1908 at 55 cents; in Nov. 1912, at 60 cents. Last month they were 55 cents.

Department officials Thursday expressed the belief that there should be a national law limiting the time which eggs may be kept in cold storage, six months probably being the Lesson: Crossing the Jordan—Joshua 3:1-17; Psalm 114.

Golden Text: Fear thou not, for I am with thee—Isaiah 41:10.

THE FOLLY OF FEAR.

1. Fear is a Deadly Enemy. Those who are living wrong lives ought to fear, because they are following a path whose end leads to death, but for those who would serve God, fear is a sin. It is doubt of God that paralyzes our efforts. When God bids us to do a thing, no matter how difficult, we should undertake it with full confidence; but if we are kept from doing it by fear it is dishonoring to the Lord. Fear thwarts the Divine plans for us so that they cannot be accomplished; nothing therefore is more disastrous. God gave Joshua his orders concerning the crossing of the Jordan, and although He did not tell him how all the difficulties were to be overcome, Joshua with courageous faith undertook to obey, and what he could not accomplish by his own efforts God did for him, so that the people were taken across the river in perfect safety. If Joshua had feared that the crossing was not possible, he would not have made the attempt, and would have missed the wonderful display of God's power in making the passage for them. The reason for most failures is fear, and the reason for most successes is courage. If we get it firmly fixed in our minds that fear is a sin, and a deadly enemy to success, it will be a great help to us in performing our daily duties and in accomplishing our work.

2. To Lose Heart is to Lose the Battle. Moral courage is based upon God, physical courage is more a matter of the disposition given to us by nature, and while it is something which, when displayed, receives the admiration of the people, it is not nearly as praiseworthy as moral courage. We say that those who fear are faint-hearted, while the courageous are called stout-hearted. To be faint-hearted, or as we sometimes say to lose our heart, means failure, for when a man has lost his heart he has lost everything. Most of our troubles are for the purpose of developing our courage, and to give us experience in the ways of God. Every difficulty which impedes our progress, can be overcome if we keep up our hearts, and undertake to face it with faith. We read that out of the heart come evil thoughts, and good thoughts, and in like manner we may say that out of the heart proceed courage, fortitude and initiative. If the heart is fearless, undaunted, calm, and determined, we win in any event. Even if the particular circumstance to which we are opposed should not be prevented, we have won the nobler battle of conquering ourselves; we have kept from cowardice and doubt of God. Thus whether we win or lose in the particular things for which we are battling, we win the most priceless possession of strength and courage.

3. Fear is Dishonoring to God. If we realize the true nature of fear, and that moral courage is a matter of our choosing, we shall not likely allow ourselves to be afraid. If, however, we think, as some do, that fear is a quality beyond our control, we shall doubtless be frequently overtaken with this sin that dishonors God. Fear doubts the promises of God, and breaks a specific commandment. The following words were spoken as an encouragement, but they are also a commandment: "Fear thou not; for I am with thee; I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee." To have foreboding, or doubt, or fear, with these words before us is certainly dishonoring to God. To doubt God's word, or his ability, or to doubt his love in a sense to make us fear to undertake the duty He assigns us, must be sinful. Faith and fear are opposites, and it is faith which enables us to overcome difficulties, as well as to save our souls. Let us therefore prayerfully cultivate faith.

4. Freedom From Fear is Victory Itself. If there had been no sin there would have been no fear. The first record of fear is in the case of Adam, and Eve after they had broken God's commandment. They knew they had done wrong, and their consciences accused them, so that when they heard the voice of the Lord God in the garden, instead of running to meet Him as in their time of innocence, "they were afraid" and hid themselves. It has ever been thus; sin makes men cowards. It is our duty to fight our fears and, by obedience, overcome them and if we thus conquer life will be one grand victory. A man like Jacob for example, who maintained his faith and confidence in God, no matter what the difficulties, is the admiration of both man and God. We read that fear hath torment, and that perfect love casteth out fear. Fear is bondage, while faith is victory. O ye fearful ones, listen to God's message: "Say to them that are of a fearful heart, be strong, fear not." This is both encouragement, and an imperative command to be strong and fearless. We can conquer our fears and put on the strength of God.

Blood Poison

Neo-Salvarsan "914" The Intravenous Method, directly into the blood—the only way it should be given.

No man need deny himself my services for lack of money. If you need the treatment, call.

"914" Salvarsan is today acknowledged even by those who first doubted the permanency of the cure, to be the greatest discovery of the age. It has been in use over two years and the results obtained are not only permanent but miraculous. I use more of this remedy than all other specialists put together; therefore my experience is of greater value to the patient than that of any other specialist.

In the very large number of cases in which I have used the remedy I have not had one single failure. Every symptom of the disease from the eruption to the running sore, from the rash to the destruction of tissue and bone, was checked within twelve hours after its administration. There is no longer the slightest doubt about the wonderful curative power of the remedy, and in the hands of an expert specialist there is absolutely no danger of any kind from its use. I introduce it directly into the blood. I keep you in my office from two to four hours—longer. They I make a Wasserman test of your blood. The test tells its own story. It tells you that you are free from the disease. It gives you a new license to live a good and pure life. It is, indeed, a blessing to mankind.

My equipment for the proper administration of this German remedy is the finest in Indiana and second to none in the United States. I prefer to have the patient present while I am preparing the solution as he may observe the technique I follow in the preparation of "914." It would be well for the patient to bring a friend or his family physician if he so desires.
